Dear Colonel:

FOIAb6

      I certainly appreciated your letter of January 23, 1947 very much, and wish to thank you most sincerely for your efforts to assist ███████████ in accomplishing the movement of our household goods from St. Louis to Washington. Apparently, there was considerable difference of opinion between the Transportation Officer in St. Louis, and the Office of the Chief of Transportation here in Washington, as to what documents were required to effect the move. I was finally able to get it straightened out through a telephone call from the Chief of Transportation here to the St. Louis office. It all, finally, worked out completely satisfactorily, and the furniture is now all in Washington.

      With reference to the application of your brother for a position with CIG - immediately, upon receipt of your letter, I contacted my boss with the idea that he possibly could use him in the set up with which I am connected. As you might well suspect, being in this organization such a short time, I am in a position only to place his application on the desks of the people who have authority to hire and fire. No vacancy existed within our office for a man with his qualifications. However, it was felt that he might be useful in some other Branch, consequently, the application was referred to the Personnel Division with the resultant letter being written to your brother, copy of which is enclosed herewith.

      I regret that I was unable to do something more positive in connection with this application. However, I feel that I am in a position to tell you that this letter is not the ordinary brush-off, and, it is my impression, that as this organization expands, vacancies for personnel with your brother's qualifications will exist.

      With kindest personal regards and be_____

                Sincerely yours,
